Cold comfort

Mela Purdie

Metalicus

As the cooler weather approaches we long for comfort food and clothes that make us feel cocooned. Wilson & Hunter has the answer with lightweight layering pieces that feel fantastic and look great.

Mesop's signature knit fabrics are lightweight stretch, making them ideal for layering to bring a personal touch to your wardrobe. Every piece is figure-flattering, feminine, versatile and so comfortable they will become one of your favourites. Check out the range at Wilson & Hunter boutique.

At Metalicus, this season is about multi dimensional layering, incorporating pieces that make life a little easier for you. Bold stripes, fluid fabrics, interesting textures and easy silhouettes.

Mela Purdie aims to create luxurious and simple clothes with a philosophy of 'less is more'.

She understands the time constraints of modern living and believes that a core wardrobe of comfort basics is essential to help today's woman get going each day. To the core she adds pieces that up the ante on fashion and luxury without sacrificing her trademark comfort, creating a look that is effortless and chic. This season's neutral palette and lux fabrics have made us fall in love with Mela Purdie all over again.

New Zealand label Verge has taken the current trend toward layering to heart and produced a range that will take you from day into night in comfort and style. Whether it's their iconic jean, chunky knits, lightweight layering pieces, ultra modern tunics or versatile coats, Verge never strays far from their trademark look of wearable and original fashion with personality.
